Madison cable TV may include home emergency buttons

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Cable television, if adopted in Madison, may feature emergency attachments.

Mayor Mike Sasyk told the Madison City Council at its Tuesday evening meeting that he is looking into a system whereby burglar alarms, home emergency buttons and similar devices could be included with the cable television lines.

"There are several cities that have this in use now and I am gathering as much information as possible. We could not only have our burglar alarms on the cable, but a person, if he wanted, could have his entire medical history in a computer we would have. Then when an ambulance was called for a person, a computer readout could be given the ambulance driver or emergency people.

"This readout would contain the person's medical history and could have what medication the person was taking, particularly in the case of senior citizens.

"I have talked to a Florida chief of police whose city has this computer system attached to the cable television and they swear by it. "In talking with both professional and non-professional people about the possibility of this type of alarm system, I have been told it most definitely has the possibility of saving lives," Sasyk said.

Sasyk went on to point out the telephone company is planning on increasing cost of the burglar alarm lines from $9.50 to $22 per month.

"I don't want us to vote on this tonight as I would like you to study the information we have, and at our next meeting we can have specific costs," Sasyk said.

Harvey Stewart, vice-president for operation of Southwestern Cable TV Inc., explained the service to the council.

Granite City and Pontoon Beach have already approved the cable company plan. The cost would be $7 per month for the basic service of 19 channels. An additional movie channel that shows first-run movies without commercials, would be an additional $8.50 per month. Stewart stressed that there would be no X rated films and the films would be the latest releases.

Five percent of the gross income would be used to produce local events on a community channel such as high school sports, school plays and local events that had a wide interest.

The city would receive three percent of the gross income as a franchise fee. If approved, it would be at least 18 months before the cable television would be available to Madison residents.

ON TO PEORIA! The Granite City High School North baseball Steelers hold their Class AA Sectional trophy aloft Tuesday after defeating Normal High 6-0 in the final game. North now advances to the Class AA (large school) state finals which will be held June 7 and 8 at Peoria's Meinen Field. North, with a won-lost record of 20-6, will face Oak Forest June 7 at 11:30 a.m. There are now only eight teams remaining in contention for the state championship. Details are in today's sports section.

Skilled graduates

TRANSITION from school to the world of work faces many of those who graduated from high school last week. Local school counselors say many useful skills have been acquired, but that finding jobs which will fully utilize such abilities is not easily accomplished. Doug J. Hutchings (left), a new GCHS South graduate, had a good attendance record and successfully completed courses in unit drafting, electric, woods, auto mechanics, sheet metal and welding. He hopes for a permanent position in this community. Regina R. Jones, newly graduated from GCHS North, studied typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and office machines and her work experience includes typing, filing, calculator, tabulation and duplicating, plus receptionist and switchboard experience. She would like a permanent job as a secretary or stenographer, leading to a career as an executive secretary. The schools' Placement Office (877-1512, Extension 65) is in operation this summer to aid in placing such young people.

The question of how much residents of Naneok, Chouteau and Venice townships in the special service area where sanitary sewers are being installed will have to pay for the sewers this year was answered by county officials Tuesday and the figure, while not expected to be popular, is very close to the previous estimates.

The taxes this year for sewers for those residing in Special Service Area number one will be $202.40 for a $30,000 home (assessed at $10,000, or one-third of its market value) according to official figures released this week by Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles and Louis Whitsell, chairman of the county's special sewer committee.

The first year's taxes, which will be as high as the projected rate for the second year, primarily due to a lawsuit which froze the program for several months while interest was accumulating on the $5 million in general obligation bonds for the project, Whitsell said.

The taxes to be collected this summer for the 1978 tax year are based upon a total assessed valuation in the special service area of $36,075,024 and a tax rate of $2.024 per $100 assessed valuation will be required to meet the principal and interest of the bonds for the first 1½ years.

Whitsell estimates the second year's tax rate, to be collected in the summer of 1980, will decline to about $1.004 per $100 assessed valuation, less than half of the first year's rate.

However, Miss Bowles warned, "I do not want to make an estimate of next year's tax rate and raise false hopes. We do not know what will happen with the elimination of the personal property tax on corporations and what type of tax will be enacted to replace it." In a news release Tuesday, Whitsell said railroad and personal property valuation amounted to $2,562,774 for 1978, all or most of which will be eliminated by abolition of personal property taxes on corporations.

He estimated that despite the personal property tax elimination, the taxes collected for sanitary sewers on a $30,000 home in the summer of 1980 will total only $100.40 and the tax will continue to decrease over the 15-year life of the bonds.

He said the tax can not be added to or

A tax rate of $1.477 per $100 assessed valuation has been extended for Granite City on the basis of 1978 property assessments that total $10.5 million above that of the previous year.

The new tax rate, a reduction of 3.4 cents below that of $1.511 applied for collection of taxes in the summer of 1978, was announced Wednesday by Mayor Paul Schulz who said he had been notified of the new rate extension by the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The 1978 property assessment for Granite City has been set at $186,044,379, an increase of $10,568,115 over the 1977 valuation of $176,315,264 on which tax bills paid last year were computed, Mayor Schulz said.

"This is real good," the mayor said. "Who says taxes can't be reduced!"

The rate for city tax purposes was based on a tax levy of $2,758,441 applied against the new 1978 assessment of $186.8 million. While that levy was an increase of $95,971 over the previous year's levy of $2,662,470, the property valuation increased sufficiently to offset the rise in the levy and still permit the rate reduction of 3.4 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Notice of the new 1978 tax rate is expected to be presented to the Granite City Council for acceptance in the council's June 5 session.

The rate of $1.477 applied against the $186.8 million valuation would raise

Policeman slain; GC man killed

Lloyd E. Mitchell Jr., 36, Kirkpatrick Homes, was shot to death by St. Louis police last night after Mitchell was believed to have fired shots which killed one St. Louis officer and wounded another officer and a nearby woman.

The incident occurred about 9:40 p.m. in front of the Sixth District (Ruskin Avenue) police station.

Officials said Mr. Mitchell, who was a mental patient, first entered the station about 6:30 p.m. yesterday and told officers he had been in an auto accident and had no way to get home to Granite City. The police attempted to contact his relatives and arrange for them to pick him up.

Witnesses related that Mr. Mitchell wandered away and apparently went in front of the station where Sgt. William Campbell, 41, St. Louis, drove up, got out of his patrol car and began talking to several persons.

Mr. Mitchell, who was wearing boxer shorts over his regular trousers, then walked to Campbell's squad car, removed the riot gun from its bracket on the dashboard and fired it at a car in a service station lot nearby, according to reports by police.

Shirley Fellows, 40, St. Louis, who was seated in the car, was struck, either by flying glass or by pellets from the gun. Patrolman James Cox, 32, St. Louis, then arrived at the station and Mr. Mitchell began firing at the group, hitting Sgt. Campbell in the chest and Patrolman Cox in the legs, witnesses reported.

The gunman then fled as more officers ran out of the station and he was struck on the left elbow by a shot fired by another sergeant, police said. Mr. Mitchell continued to run and was

WEST PONTON CROSSING APPROACH repairs are begun Wednesday afternoon on the steep west approach. A Granite City Street Department worker breaks up the existing road surface to be loaded onto trucks. The present approach will be replaced with a more gradual incline improving visibility and making the crossing safer. The entire crossing will be closed for the duration of the repairs with traffic being detoured around the work site. Work crews of the Illinois Central Gulf railroad also are working at the crossing, repairing one set of tracks and removing the most westerly set of tracks which have been out of use for some time.

Packin' the kids off to Grandma's

It's that time of the year—Mom's vacation. The boys are going off to Grandma's house for an extra week. Boy, am I ready for it, especially after almost a week in the hospital.

I got both of the kids' hair cut last week (before hospital) so Grandma will not take them to the barber shop. He always has their hair cut way too short and that always makes me furious. I have avoided that problem, I hope.

I took the fellas shopping. Of course they needed a whole new summer wardrobe. I would never live it down if I sent them to Kansas without new everything. Grandma would think I was a bad mother and Daddy a bad provider.

Of course, some of their old jeans became shorts, those that still fit. I swear

Ross has grown a foot and Dennis is entirely too tall for an "almost seven" year old. New shoes were in order for my two roughneck boys.

I had to go to three shoe stores before I found the right width for Dennis, my fat footed kid.

Then, of course, I had to unpack a couple of suitcases so that I could pack some things for them to take along. As I began, I realized that they had no pajamas of any consequence.

Off to the store again, this time for six pairs of summer weight pj's. I was beginning to wonder if I was going to have any money left at all by the time I got them set to go.

I really didn't care if I had a nickel, just so they were properly attired for a week with Grandma so I could have a week of silence.

As I packed, I spent a few lovely minutes dreaming about what I would do with my week. It turned out to be more fun to think about those things I WON'T be doing.

Dennis Asbeck was installed as president of the Marshall School PTA.

Others installed were: Sharon Moorman, vice-president; Judy Smith, recording secretary; Juan Stark, corresponding secretary and publicity; Karen Ambuehl, treasurer; and Shirley Smith and Diane Robertson, ways and means.

The PTA sold a variety of food and treats at the school picnic at Wilson Park. Games were held for students and faculty.

PTA officers are installed at Marshall

I will not be washing nearly as many dishes or clothes, since my husband won't be around much either, working long hours and all.

Neither will I be breaking up a thousand fights a day or baking cookies or making Koolaid.

What I will be doing is relaxing, lying around in the sun and doing things at my leisure rather than on such a tight schedule.

For a whole week I will not have to worry about where the kids are or what they are doing. I won't be kissing them goodnight or taking them to the park or hearing Dennis say "I love you, Mommy."

You know, I think I'm going to miss the little guys.

How to buy a personal computer.

Suddenly everyone is talking about personal computers. Before you buy, take time to talk with your Apple II dealer. We're computer experts who can answer your unanswered questions and show you how useful and how much fun personal computers can be. And we'll help you choose a computer that meets your personal needs.

Who uses personal computers.
Thousands of people have already discovered the "Apple" computer—businessmen, students, hobbyists. They're using their Apples for financial management, complex problem solving—and just plain fun. You can use your Apple to analyze the stock market, manage your personal finances, control your home environment, and to invent an unlimited number of sound and action video games. That's just the beginning.

What to look for.
Once you've unlocked the power of the personal computer, you'll be using your Apple in ways you never dreamed of. That's when the capabilities of the computer you buy will really count. So you'll want to be limited by the availability of pre-programmed cartridges. You'll want a computer, like Apple, that you can program yourself in an English like language called BASIC. You don't want to settle for a black and white display. You'll want a computer, like Apple, that can turn any color into a dazzling array of color graphics. The more you learn about computers, the more your imagination will demand. So you'll want a computer that can grow with you as your skills and experience with computers grow. Apple's II line.

How to get one.
The quickest way to get an Apple is to come see us. When you do, we'll have a copy of Apple Computer's "Consumer Guide to Personal Computing" for you, and a demonstration of what Apple II can do.

Apple II also runs on standard TV sets in color and black and white.

Sewer tax

extended, and current estimates "did not even take any increase of real property into consideration, which would result in a lower tax."

"In addition to the possibility of the attraction of more homes in this sewer area, I expect factories and business will develop which will be required to pay what we call 'Industrial Cost Recovery,' which will result in less cost to us than we can predict at this time," Whitwell's statement concluded.

The $17.6 million sewer project is being funded with a $12.6 million grant from the federal and state Environmental Protection Agencies and a $5 million local share which was raised through the sale of general obligation bonds, which must be repaid through taxation.

A group of citizens residing in the service area filed suit, challenging the use of taxation for the project, rather than repaying the bonds through user fees, but the circuit and appellate courts ruled in favor of the county.

The Illinois Supreme Court refused to hear the appeal Jan. 26, 1978, and construction was allowed to begin that May, after more than 16 months of delay caused by the lawsuit.

During the legal battle, the interest on the bonds continued to accrue, resulting in the large tax rate for the first year, officials explained.

In addition to the taxes, those tapping onto the new sewers will have to pay a $25 inspection fee and will be charged for sewage treatment. The total for sewage treatment may need to be renegotiated between the county and the Granite City Council, city officials have indicated.

The sewers are being constructed by S.M. Wilson & Co., contractor and are expected to be completed in June 1980.

GC rate

approximately $2.7 million in tax proceeds for the city, on the basis of a 100 percent tax collection. Granite City taxpayers customarily pay about 95 to 97 percent of the total tax billed.

Granite City's total tax rate is made up of a rate for general fund purposes and separate tax extensions in 12 special accounts.

A breakdown of the new $1.477 rate shows that reductions occurred not only in the tax extension for the general fund, but in 10 of the 12 special accounts as well.

The only two accounts in which the rate increased was for payment of bonds and interest and for the public library. The largest single rate extension was for the library operation which increased from 18.41 cents per $100 assessed valuation last year to 22.24 cents in the new rate schedule.

The rate for bond and interest payments was extended at 9.07 cents, or 53 of one cent more than last year's rate of 8.54 cents.

In the general fund, the new rate is 19.52 cents, down from 20.42 cents last year, while the rate for police protection is 18.46 cents, down from 19.01 cents. For fire protection purposes, the new rate is 14.86 cents, down from 15.75 cents last year. The new rate for street lighting is 2.65 cents. Last year it was 2.81 cents.

For the street and bridge account, the new rate is 10.44 cents, down from 11.07, and the new rate for municipal retirement fees is 4.42 cents, compared to 4.68 cents last year. A new rate of 13.25 cents is extended for the sanitation account, down from 14.04 cents a year ago.

Other rates, compared to those of last year, include 4.09 cents for the sewer account, down from 4.68; a rate of .58 of one cent for civil defense purposes, down from .61 of one cent a year ago; 16.06 cents for police pensions, down from 17.03 last year, and the same extension of 16.06 cents for firemen's pensions, also down from 17.03 a year ago.

Policeman

struck by a pursuing squad car on Calvary Drive.

He climbed a fence into Calvary Cemetery, where officers shot him in the lower back, fatally wounding him, according to officers. He was taken to St. Louis City Hospital where he was declared dead upon arrival.

Sgt. Campbell was pronounced dead on arrival at Firth Desloge Hospital, St. Louis. Mrs. Feltz was taken to Deaconess Hospital for treatment. Hospital authorities said she was not admitted.

A Granite City police sergeant at 12:15 a.m. today notified Mr. Mitchell's widow, Karen Mitchell, of her husband's death. She had filed a missing person report with Granite City police which showed he was last seen here at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

The report noted he was under mental care and could possibly be violent at times, police said.

He is said to have been under psychiatric care at a veterans' hospital. Mr. Mitchell was born in Granite City and had resided here his entire life. He attended local schools.

He was a U.S. Army veteran.

He had been employed for the past seven months as a maintenance machinist at Gould, Inc., a St. Louis firm. Previously, he worked as a machinist for three years at American Steel Foundries here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Karen Mitchell; three children, Carmen, 10, Carrie, 6, and Kelly, 18 months old, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Henrietta, Mitchell Sr. of Granite City; four brothers, William Mitchell of Granite City, John Mitchell of Caseyville, James Mitchell of Mitchell and Edward Mitchell, at home; and three sisters, Mrs. Carol Barr of Granite City, Mrs. Betty Penrod of New Havana, Ill., and Mrs. Nancy Echart of Havana, Ill.

Available details concerning the funeral are given in the obituary column.

Two civil rights suits

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

A second federal civil rights suit is being filed charging Madison city officials with discrimination against black people buying homes.

The Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said a class action suit was filed Wednesday on behalf of Mrs. Barbara Guest of Madison.

On April 15, Mrs. Guest purchased a home at 1025 Market St., Madison, but has been unable to get the city to inspect the house for an occupancy permit, she says. She is employed at Granite City Steel and is making payments on the house. She is suing the city for her apartment, which is causing her a hardship, according to Williams.

The suit, Williams said, is seeking $50,000 in damages from Sasyk, $50,000 from City Building Inspector John Dulko and court costs from the City of Madison.

Mayor Sasyk said Wednesday, "Everyone knows about this suit but me. I have received nothing on it. I will be glad to comment when I see just what the suit alleges."

Building Inspector Dutko said, "I have no comment at this time."

Another law suit is pending in the U. S. District Court charging Mayor Sasyk, City Attorney Casper Nighossian and Dutko with conspiracy to violate the civil rights of William Radman and Angelo Jones. This issue is over the city's condemnation of property at 1657 Third St., Madison. Radman alleges that the conspiracy occurred due to the fact Jones is black.

Radman alleges that the Madison Housing Code is unconstitutional and the city of Madison is improperly using the building code.

Radman is asking $130,000 in damages.

Fail to meet payroll

The Metro-East Sanitary District failed today to meet a $34,000 payroll which was approved for payment during a meeting of the district board of trustees Wednesday.

Salary payments depended upon receipt of $34,000 check from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency as part of grant funds for repair of the broken Cahokia sanitary sewer line. The check had not arrived early today.

A district official said salaries will be paid as soon as the money becomes available.

FISH FRY FOLLOWS RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. John Long of 2828 E. 25th St., returned home after spending three weeks vacationing and fishing with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moss of Shook, Mo. They then held a fish fry at their home with family and friends.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Beatty and children, Curtis, Duane, Allayna and Deanna; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fisher and son, Mike; and daughter, Sherry; Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Thomas and children, Nicky, Stacia, Terri, Erin and Ellen; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson; Maria Culpen and daughter, Tracey Culpen; Mrs. Sandra Burns and son, John; Miss Rhonda Hurt; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nicholas and daughters, Kristie and Lori; of Troy; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nemeth of Troy, and Mark Nicholas of Troy.

INSURANCE COVERAGE FOR CARPOOLING

The Illinois Department of Insurance has received inquiries from fuel-conscious, car-pooling drivers who are concerned they may not have continued coverage from their individual policies, according to Richard L. Mathias.

The department does not consider car-pool vehicles to be public conveyances. Therefore, Mathias has urged all auto insurance companies in Illinois to guarantee coverage for carpooling under existing policies, and says he is certain all insurers will cooperate.

Galatians 5:14... "For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

An often quoted scripture, this is the golden rule by which we are to live. It really sounds too simple, doesn't it? "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Believe me, it doesn't work automatically. It requires God's love on as well as our own dedication to make it work.

It is needful to try self-examination, that is, see how well you take care of yourself. Now, examine your relationship with your neighbor, how well you care for him. The difference will surprise you, and is the exact measure you need to find out what you must do to fulfill the law.

Love thy neighbor as thyself.

34 college courses at Washington School by BAC in fall

(Belleville Area College) Like the weather, most people talk about the fuel shortage, but few do anything. Granite City students will find that's not always true, however, when Belleville Area College brings a complete schedule of basic freshman (and some sophomore) courses to a new daytime center in Washington School on West 20th Street this fall.

According to Larry Schmalenberger, who has been chosen to oversee the Granite City operation, students can get all of their first year general courses except laboratory sciences at the Granite City center. Classes at the Washington School site will be scheduled between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Students will still be able to enroll for evening classes regularly taught in Granite City even though they may be enrolled for daytime classes. Most of those classes (for credit) begin at 7 p.m. and last until 9:45 and are taught one night a week.

Schmalenberger is presently working on plans for college counselors to spend time in the Granite City facility to help students work out their schedules. "We are going to try to provide as comprehensive services here as possible," Schmalenberger said.

Courses to be taught at the Washington School site this fall on Mondays and Wednesdays are: Cultural Anthropology (Anthropology 159), Understanding the Arts (Art 101), Accounting I (Business 110), Personnel Management (Business 219), Business Communications (Business 261), Writing Lab (English 003), Rhetoric and Composition I (English 101).

Also, Health 151, Emergency Medical Technician (Health Related Occupations 110), American Literature (Literature 213), Intermediate Algebra (Math 110), Introduction to Philosophy (Philosophy 150), Introduction to Sociology (Sociology 153), Social Problems (Sociology 203) and Fundamentals of Public Speaking (Speech 151).

Tuesday-Thursday classes are: Introduction to Business (Business 101), Business Mathematics (Business 102), Introduction to Marketing (Business 126), Real Estate Transactions (Business 175), Data Processing (Business 185), Educational Psychology (Education 252), Rhetoric and Composition (English 101), History of the U. S. to 1972 (History 253).

Also, Health 151, Medical Terminology (Health Related Occupations 160), Basic Concepts of Math I (Math 102), College Algebra (Math 112), Introduction to American Government (Political Science 150), General Psychology (Psychology 151), Applied Psychology (Psychology 200), and Fundamentals of Public Speaking (Speech 151).

Students can take elementary French (French 101), by attending class on Friday mornings from 9 to 12:40.

Other one-day-a-week classes to be taught this fall in Granite City include Medical Terminology, which will be taught on Mondays from 9 to 9:50 and on Wednesdays from 12 to 12:50. Medical Terminology is a one-credit course.

Coe dance, a non-credit physical education course, will be taught on Tuesdays from 10:30 to 12:20.

Registration for fall classes at Granite City can be completed any time between now and the starting of school on the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Telephone registration will be available from July 30 to Aug. 10.

And students may register at Washington School between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. July 30 through Aug. 14.

Students who will be mathematics courses for the first time should be sure to take the placement tests and have their registration confirmed by a counselor prior to official registration. Placement tests are for diagnostic purposes only, and no student will be denied admission to the college as a result of his or her scores on the tests.

First-time students will have to pay a one-time-only application fee of $10.

Tuition for residents of District 522 (which includes the Quad-Cities) is $14 per credit hour plus a $1 per credit hour student services fee.

Total tuition, fees and book costs for BAC students are estimated at approximately $300 per semester for full-time.

All students are being encouraged to apply for the Illinois State Scholarship and/or the Basic Education Opportunity Grant.

Illinois veterans receive tuition and fees under the Illinois Veterans Scholarship even if their G. I. benefits have expired. All courses offered in the Granite City daytime program are credit courses and qualify for veteran benefits.

Tentative GC budget trimmed $1 million

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Granite City officials today are studying a tentative "rough-draft" budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year which would, if approved within the scope of the present figures, cut projected spending $1 million below last year's appropriations.

Members of the City Council, in an informal discussion Tuesday night, received a tentative budget proposal projecting operational expenses totaling $7,342,000 for all purposes, including federal revenue sharing costs.

That total is $1,098,106 less than the 1978-79 budget adopted a year ago, including $7,676,145 for operational purposes and a revenue sharing budget of $763,961 — a total of $8,440,106.

The proposal given City Council members was drafted after a series of finance meetings conducted by the council's finance committee, headed by Alderman Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward, City Clerk Robert Stevens, Mayor Paul Schuler, the mayor's administrative aide, Arvil Taylor, and city department heads.

Taylor, who compiled the budget proposal, said the figures are tentative and subject to change before a final draft is completed, but noted it is a beginning upon which further discussions can be based.

The aldermen are expected to begin discussions of the new appropriation bill in the June 5 council session. Customarily, extensive changes are made in the tentative budget — usually upward. The city's fiscal year for which the new budget is being prepared began May 1.

Under state law, cities must finally approve and give legal publication to budget bills no later than

July 31. In previous years, budget talks by Granite City officials continued up to or near the legal deadline.

Stevens said today that every effort is being made toward early completion of the budget bill this year. The budget draft as presented this week includes a total of $5,570,000 for general fund purposes, $888,000 in projected expenditure of Community Development Grant funds and $214,000 in federal revenue sharing expenses.

It is the first time Community Development grant budget items have been listed separately, having been included in previous years in the general operational budget.

The combination of the general fund and Community Development fund budgets amounts to $6,328,000, compared to last year's operational budget finally approved at $7,676,145.

The tentative federal revenue sharing budget calls for expenditures at this point of $814,000, or $50,039 more than the $763,961 revenue sharing budget finally approved last year.

The budget projects expenditures of the police department at $1,134,516, a figure that was trimmed by finance officials from the total of $1,419,650 that originally was requested by the department.

Principal cut in that budget was for police department salaries. The department scheduled expenditures of $960,679 for that purpose, but the budget lists the recommended amount at $741,196.

Fire department expenditure is projected at $954,797, a cut from the department's request of $1,091,997. Here again, the requested amount of $906,997 was cut to a recommended appropriation of $786,997 for firemen's salaries.

The street department budget is set at $805,793, down from $862,545 requested by the department.

Shooting victim is improving

Granite City detectives plan to confer with the Madison County state's attorney's warrant office in the near future to determine if charges should be filed against a man who allegedly shot Charles Freiner, 23, of 1415 Fourth St., Madison, in the neck Saturday.

Freiner underwent surgery at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and is in stable condition today. Authorities said the bullet entered his neck and went into his chest, stopping near the top of his heart.

The incident occurred at a relative's home in the 2200 block of Cleveland Blvd. A suspect was taken into custody at the scene, but has not been charged pending additional investigation.

Officers said the man who allegedly shot Freiner handed them a .22-caliber revolver believed used in the shooting.

The victim was lying in the front yard when authorities arrived. Members of the family described the shooting as being in self-defense.

4-year sentence for shooting

Norvell Smith, 28, of the 800 block of Sylvester St., Venice, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Horace Calvo to serve four years in prison after a jury found Smith guilty of aggravated battery. He was found innocent of a charge of attempted murder.

Eighteen-year-old Caroline Garcia, Elkhardt, Ind., was shot in the abdomen while she stood in a doorway of the St. Louis East Truck Plaza in Troy Dec. 8, 1977. Witnesses said the man, who apparently did not know the victim, said "Hi," and then shot Miss Garcia when she did not answer.

The gunman then apologized and sat down and ordered a sandwich and a cup of coffee as 50 other diners sat in silence in the restaurant. Troy police arrived and arrested the man.

Miss Garcia has recuperated from her wound.

OLDER AMERICANS ACT AMENDMENTS

Peg Blaser, acting director of the Illinois Department on Aging, plans public hearings on its proposed 1980-81 state plan on aging. The plan discusses administrative changes necessary for Illinois to implement the 1978 amendments to the federal Older Americans Act.

Copies of the plan are available at area agencies on aging. Copies may also be obtained and hearing information is available from the Department on Aging, 421 E. Capitol, Springfield 62706 (217-785-3356).

NEWLY REMODELED area of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank. This section is the loan department which has been enlarged. New carpeting, new writing stands, plants and other features have been added. The bank also has adopted a new logotype which shortens the institution's name to "Granite City Bank."

New image at GC Trust

A remodeling and redecorating program and establishment of a new logotype which attempts to shorten the name of the institution has been completed by Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

The new logotype, bank officials said, attempts to shorten the name of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank to a more simple "Granite City Bank."

In conjunction with the new image, the bank desires to reaffirm its confidence in the downtown area, a bank official said. An extensive investment has been made redesigning the interior of the Edison Avenue institution, he said. New carpeting has been installed throughout the main lobby area and specially constructed writing stands have been installed. Together with a wide variety of plants a more relaxed and quiet atmosphere has been created, the spokesman said.

E. A. Karandjef, chairman of the Board, said of the refurbishing, "We at Granite City Bank are delighted with the growth our community has enjoyed. In the past, this growth has had the tendency to decentralize. It is apparent that the needs arising from the energy crisis require that that trend be reversed. "Central business and shopping which is accessible to public transportation, is the trend of the future, the very near future. All of the elements necessary to create a central hub for our community are already available in the downtown Granite City area. "We at Granite City Bank will continue to invest downtown because it is what the people want and need." Many of the decisions upon which changes, such as the name adjustment and redecorating, result from some extensive market research conducted a short time ago, Karandjef said. The public has been invited to visit the GCB to inspect the redecorating efforts. Refreshments will be made available to all visitors.

Arrest 3 for bottle theft

State charges of theft were filed Tuesday against three teenagers who allegedly stole empty soft drink bottles from the rear of the Farm Fresh store, 2929 Nameoki Road, at 1:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Charged are John D. Jackson, 17, of 2408 Kirkpatrick Homes, Jeffery L. Wagner, 17, of 2207 Edison Ave., and James F. Eller, 19, of 2725 Myrtle Ave. Eller also was charged with violating a stop sign at Terminal and Cardinal avenues and with speeding (40 miles-per-hour in a 25 mph zone).

A witness said three teens were seen removing the bottles from behind the store and when they drove from the scene, another witness chased them in his car.

Police joined the chase, but lost sight of the two cars at 23rd Street and Nameoki Road. The cars later were seen southbound on Edwardsville Road near the Granite City Steel blast furnaces and were stopped on 20th Street when a police car managed to pass them and pulled the front car over.

Two wooden cases containing 24 soda bottles were found in the back seat, officers alleged.

APARTMENT BURGLARY

Low-sulfur coal in state studied

(Illinois Institute of Natural Resources)
The Illinois State Geological Survey has completed an evaluation of the conditions that may have contributed to the formation of low-sulfur coal in Illinois. Coals with a sulfur content of less than about 2.5 percent are categorized as low-sulfur coal.

This study describes the ancient environments associated with known low-sulfur coals. Untested areas of coal with similar depositional environments are outlined.

Two patterns of occurrence of low-sulfur coal were identified in this study. Some low-sulfur coal is from localized deposits distributed along rivers which flowed through swamps in which coal-forming material called peat accumulated.

Other low-sulfur coal is from deposits formed in a buried near the landward sides of a delta.

To understand the characteristics of these deposits and their regional distribution aids in the exploration for low-sulfur coal. Untested areas of potential low-sulfur coal delineated by this study include the Herrin (No. 6) Coal in parts of

for the latter two coal seams. The results of this study were presented by Colin G. Trethewey of the Geological Survey staff at a symposium on depositional models for low-sulfur coals at the Ninth International Congress of Carboniferous Stratigraphy and Geology, held last week in Urbana.

STATE ALCOHOLISM TREATMENT EMPHASIS
Dr. Robert DeVito, Director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities, says alcoholism programs funded by the state are a top priority in the department's 1979-80 fiscal year proposed budget. "It's particularly significant," he adds, "that the department is focusing some of its energy to allocating dollars to the areas of prevention and early intervention — a departure from past practices."

IDMHD will also respond to such problem areas as teenage drinking, the woman alcoholic and the Fetal Alcoholism Syndrome during the coming fiscal year, according to DeVito.

BURGLARY ON WILSON
About $18 in cash, six silver dollars, a bow and 12 hunting arrows and a leather coat, all valued at $476, were stolen from the home of Judy Gregory, 2007 Wilson Ave., she discovered last week. Entry to the home was believed gained by removing a screen from a window. The victim said she has found the rear door to the home open three times in the past week.

Railroad hearing is delayed again

The Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing scheduled for today in Madison on the condition of the railroad crossings has been rescheduled for the second week of July.

City Attorney Casper S. Nighobossian told the Madison Council Tuesday evening he was notified of the delay due to extensive repairs planned by the Illinois Terminal Railroad. The ITR is planning extensive repairs, including new track and new beds, from State street to Edwardsville Road.

The railroad is allegedly going to award the repair contract by the second week in July. Nighobossian said due to the letting of bids the railroad has not disclosed the amount of money to be spent on the repairs, but he said it sounded as though it would be substantial.

Retired teachers from South are honored

A party was held last week at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville for six retiring teachers from Granite City High School.

A buffet dinner was served to the 150 guests present and a program followed. Several former retirees from the school system attended the event.

Those honored were Steve Jones, Paul Maas, Andy Sullivan, Fay Carlisle, Wilma Hodshire and Helena Schaefer. Jones has served 23 years as assistant principal. Maas, a drafting and electric teacher, came to South in 1954. Sullivan, who has been both head football and basketball coach, has been at South 21 years in various coaching capacities.

Mrs. Carlisle has been a typing teacher at South for 14 years. Mrs. Hodshire, a business teacher, is retiring.

Gaudette receives St. George Award

Ray Gaudette Sr., assistant district commissioner for the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District of the Catholic youth in the Cahokia Mound Scout Council, has been presented with the St. George Award of the Roman Catholic Church.

The award was presented by Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Springfield.

The St. George Award is the highest award given to Scout leaders of the Roman Catholic faith. It is presented to adults who have a history of outstanding contributions to the spiritual development of Catholic youth in the Uniwah District of America.

Gaudette is a member of St. Elizabeth's parish. In addition to being active in numerous church activities, he has served as Scoutmaster of the parish program for 10 years, Explorer adviser for six years and as a roundtable commissioner.

Gaudette is the holder of the District Award of Merit, the Silver Beaver Award and the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow.

2 post bond

Don D. Dawson, 17, 1416 Norwood Drive, was arrested at 10:20 p.m. Sunday at St. Clair and Maryville Road, charged with possession of beer.

Richard Allen Kostoff, 17, 2702 Center St., was charged at the same time with possession of beer and cannabis.

Each posted a $100 bond on each charge and was released. Police answered a disturbance call in the 2500 block of Northbridge where a loud party was being held by youths 15 to 17 years of age. A party was broken up, and the two allegedly were seen putting beer into the auto before they drove off.

Four juvenile girls in the car were released to their parents.

Senior citizens' Olympics

The Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, in cooperation with the Illinois Department on Aging and various individuals, groups and agencies, will hold the first regional Senior Olympics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Admission is free and the general public is being invited to attend. Senior citizens — men and women age 55 or older — will compete in 50-yard dash, mile run, long jump, low hurdles, discus, throw, horseshoes, bowling, basketball free throw, fly casting and five-mile cycle race, all at the campus.

Swimming competition in 50-yard free style, 50-yard backstroke and 200-yard breaststroke and 200-yard free style will be held at the Edwardsville YMCA.

Competitors will be grouped in the age categories of 55-64, 65-69, 70-74 and 75 and over.

The top three male and female finishers in each event in each category will be awarded a medalion and a certificate of achievement.

Due to limited seating capacity at the SIUE track and field area, spectators are to bring folding lawn chairs, if possible. In addition, they are invited to bring sack or picnic lunches. Lunch may also be bought at the SIUE cafeteria.

More than 200 persons 55 years of age and older have registered to participate in the first annual Senior Olympics.

Clyde Fisher, program chairman for the Institute of Lifetime Learning and assistant director of Off-Campus Programs at SIUE, said registration for the event was closed May 25, but final tabulations were incomplete because mail registrations were still being processed.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, will welcome the participants at 9 a.m. Friday at the SIUE track, west of the soccer field on Bluff Road. Musical entertainment by area kitchen bands is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m.

Bowling competition will be held at the University Center. Cheerleaders will be provided by area kitchen bands.

GC council rejects bill to change ordinance procedure

An ordinance that would have required submission of all proposed ordinances and resolutions to the Ordinance Committee before being presented to the City Council for enactment was defeated by a 10 to 3 vote last week.

In a similar action, the council turned down, also by a 10 to 3 vote, a measure that would have eliminated a suspension of rules to place an ordinance on final passage in the same meeting.

Both proposed bills were the outcome of a request by First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas during the May 15 council session that all ordinances be submitted to the Ordinance Committee one week before they are presented to the council for a vote.

The ordinances which were rejected Tuesday night provided that a new measure could be acted upon immediately only if it were of an emergency nature.

Douglas has been an outspoken critic of final adoption of ordinances and resolutions immediately upon presentation, noting that most of the aldermen never get an opportunity to see or study many of the bills before they are called upon to vote on the measure.

The vote defeating the proposal for delayed ordinance action came after Mayor Paul Schuler told the aldermen

"I think this kind of action can only be detrimental."

The mayor also remarked that such a regulation "would give control over all ordinances to the chairman of the Ordinance Committee. This would mean the chairman could present only the bills he wanted to."

Douglas was absent at Tuesday night's meeting.

Voting in favor of the bills were Aldermen Warren Deatur, Fred "Pat" Schuman and Roy Paulos.

Negative votes were cast by Aldermen Glen Sprinkle, Paul Bowler, Earl Baker, Margaret Nonn, Lloyd Bailey, Sam Whitner, Everett Moelen, Paul Fisk, Michael Modrusic and Mac Warfield.

Sentencing for Maeras unlikely under new order

U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman has indefinitely postponed sentencing for former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras, 52, Madison, who has been convicted of 23 counts of federal racketeering.

Judge Ackerman ruled Tuesday that sentencing should be postponed, due to Maeras' health and stated the court does not dispute testimony by the former sheriff's doctor that Maeras has terminal cancer and only a few months to live.

In his order, the judge agreed Maeras has cancer of the brain and a lung, has been losing weight and sleeps 16 to 18 hours each day. He said there is a question whether Maeras is competent to appear for sentencing. He said that while sentencing Maeras may be a future deterrent to others, his health is of more concern and does not justify ordering Maeras to appear for sentencing.

Those convicted with Maeras, suspended Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department, and Leland Stoller, professional fundraiser who conducted fund drives for the former deputy sheriff's association, were sentenced last week.

Cooper was sentenced to serve 15 years in federal prison after being found guilty of 23 counts of racketeering activities and Stoller received a three-year sentence. Lee Stoller Enterprises, Inc., was fined $10,000, in addition to the prison sentence given Stoller.

Both were sentenced under a Class B provision of the federal law which gives the Federal Parole Commission authority to grant parole at any time during their prison terms. They are appealing their convictions and sentences to the U.S. Court of Appeals, Seventh Circuit, at Chicago.

North whips Normal 6-0

'Lumber Company' going to state

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

SPRINGFIELD — The "North-side Lumber Company" paid another visit to Chamberlain Park here Tuesday. And the Normal High School baseball team is sorry it did.

Granite City North's baseball Steelers — as their namesake indicates — used red-hot bats to melt down Normal's Ironmen 6-0 and win the championship of the Springfield IHSAA Class AA Sectional. North's bats have become so powerful that the team has nicknamed itself "The Lumber Company."

The victory means a trip to Peoria June 7 and a berth in the Illinois large school state finals to be held at Meinen Field, North (24-6) will face Oak Forest (24-6), the winner of the Burbank-Revis Sectional in the state tournament's second game, June 7 at approximately 11 a.m.

Steve Doty went the distance for North on the mound, hurling a three-hitter. He raised his record to 7-2.

Doty ran into trouble — of his own making — in the second and sixth innings. Normal loaded the bases in the second and did the same in the sixth, but could not master Doty enough to score either time.

North Coach Bob Stegmeyer said that in a different situation he might have gone to his bullpen. "I might have taken him out in a closer game," he said. "But he had the shutout going and was able to pitch his way out of it."

But the big story — as has been the case all season long — was the explosive hitting of the Steelers. They scored once in the first inning, three times in the second and once in the third and sixth. Second baseman Tom Greco was once again the hitting star for the Steelers. He three-for-four at the plate (including a double) and had three RBIs. In five post-season tournament games, Greco is 14-for-20 at the plate.

But as productive as Greco was at the plate, he wasn't the only North player who was swinging a torrid bat. Rightfielder Jeff Stamper was also three-for-four and scored a run. Third baseman Mike Robertson was two-for-three with a double and a triple, scored a run and had one RBI.

"These guys (North) seem to have a purpose in mind when they come to the ball park," said Stegmeyer. "They're not afraid of anybody. They just come and swing their bats."

But the North defense sparkled too. Robertson managed to snare a line drive near the third base line and hold a Normal batter to a single, when double — or even triple — was written all over the hit. Greco made two spectacular plays at second.

"Tommy's been playing great for us, hasn't he?" Stegmeyer asked reporters after the game. "But what can I say? It's not just him. Everybody's doing their part. That's what it takes."

In the first inning, Jeff Stamper reached base via a one-out single and scored on Greco's double into the right field corner.

In the three-run second inning, North sent eight men to the plate. Centerfielder Larry Burns — who homered Monday against Springfield — singled leading off and scored on Robertson's triple to deep right-centerfield. After Normal pitcher Ed Swanson struck out Dennis Page and Doty, shortstop Bob Baley singled in Robertson. Stamper walked after Baley had stolen second. Then Greco stroled to the plate and stroked a single up the middle driving in Baley. That was all for Swanson on the mound for Normal.

Steve Turner came in from centerfield for the Ironmen to pitch. Swanson went to first base. Rightfielder Jim Klingele went to centerfield and first baseman Dan Evans moved to rightfield. After all the moving around was finished, Turner got North catcher Dick Awall to ground out to the second baseman to end the inning.

In the third, Robertson doubled and scored on a bloop single by first baseman Page. In the sixth, Baley walked, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Greco's third hit of the afternoon.

After Doty got the last Normal batter to fly out to Burns in the seventh inning to end the game, (Continued on Page 13)

TWO REASONS the Granite City North baseball team is going to the state Class AA finals are pitcher Steve Doty (left) and second baseman Tom Greco. Doty pitched a three-hitter Tuesday and Greco went three-for-four at the plate against Normal High School in the Steelers' 6-0 victory in the championship game of the Springfield Sectional Tournament.

Tri-City wins

ST. LOUIS — The Tri-City American Legion Post 118 baseball team opened its summer season this week by splitting two games with St. Louis-based opponents. Tri-City won its season-opener Tuesday at Florissant Valley Community College by downing Pine Lawn 7-1.

Last night, Tri-City suffered an 11-1 setback at the hands of Thoman-Boothe at ABC Park in St. Anne, Mo. Tuesday, the big inning for Tri-City was the fifth. Going into the frame tied 1-1, Tri-City came up with four runs to grab the lead for good.

Blake Ambush opened the inning with a walk and went to third base when Todd McFarland got to second on a two-base throwing error by Pine Lawn's first baseman on an attempted bunt. Ambush came in to score on a squeeze-play bunt single by Mark Linhart. Mike Degonia then batted in McFarland on another squeeze-play bunt single.

Jim Thurmon reached base on an error by the Pine Lawn shortstop, sending Degonia to second. Jeff Parker then singled in DeGonia. Jeff Tretter singled to drive in Thurmon

'79 Steelers 'aren't afraid of anybody'

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

SPRINGFIELD — Steve Doty was working on a shutout. He was in trouble. Doty was pitching for Granite City North here Tuesday against Normal High in the championship game of the Springfield Sectional. His team was ahead 1-0, but Normal had just loaded the bases. What was going through Doty's mind?

"I just told myself to bear down," said the 17-year old junior. "I didn't have real good form. I straightened up my stance a little."

Doty is as intense an athlete as one will find. His mind is on one thing only — pitching. "I guess I'm what you could call intense," he said. "But it doesn't matter what game I'm pitching in. The pressure doesn't effect me."

Then he scratched his head and thought, "No, I guess the pressure does effect me. It makes me pitch better."

Doty's attitude is typical of the entire Granite City North baseball team. The Steelers are indeed an intent group of players. But they manage to blend their intensity with a looseness that makes baseball fun for them.

"We stress basics," said

Steelers coach Bob Stegmeyer. "The fundamentals are the most important part of the game." Perhaps it is North's stressing of fundamentals that makes it so successful. For instance, North assistant coach Jack Parker stood on the dugout steps Tuesday and constantly shouted instructions to his fielders. But the instructions weren't complicated. They were the same things you might hear at a Little League game. Where to go with the ball in a specific instance. Reminding the catcher that he must tag the batter on a dropped third strike.

"We talk to them alot," said Parker. "It helps. You never know what will happen to kids in pressure game situations. They could miss a sign or not pick up something important. It's our responsibility to keep things in front of them."

The North team grows closer as the season grows longer. "The team is a close group," said Stegmeyer. "They rally around each other and keep the morale up."

After North had defeated Normal 6-0, Stegmeyer hugged several of his players as the victory celebration took place on the field. Then he met with reporters. "I've felt all along we had the best ball club in our area," he said. "But I'll tell you. We had a sister school across town that could be here as easily as us."

Has the North squad peaked yet? "I hope not," laughed Stegmeyer. "We seem to be getting more clutch plays from our defense every game. And our bats keep giving us plenty of runs to work with."

"But I'll tell you this. These guys will go up to Peoria knowing they're as good as anybody else. They aren't afraid of anybody."

When asked who North will face in the first round of the state finals, Stegmeyer replied, "We'll play the winner of the Burbank-Revis Sectional in the second game up there."

"Not that I was counting too heavily on winning this one," he grinned, "but I did sort of check it out in case I had to talk to any newspaper reporters."

Buses, reception planned

GRANITE CITY — Plans have been made here for fan buses to travel Granite City North's 11:30 a.m. game Thursday (June 7) in the Illinois High School State Finals at Meinen Field in Peoria.

Any adult or student wishing to travel on the chartered fan buses should register at the North office by 12 p.m., Wednesday, June 6. The fee will be $12 per person. The bus will leave from the North parking lot at 7 a.m. Thursday. Should North win its Thursday game, a bus will leave the North parking lot at 5 a.m. Friday for the 9:30 a.m. start of North's semifinal contest.

A welcome-home reception for North is planned for 2 p.m. Saturday at the high school — win or lose.

The 1979 Granite City North baseball team is the fourth GC team in history to make a trip to the state finals in Peoria.

Five down, three to go

SPRINGFIELD — There are three victories separating Granite City High School North's baseball Steelers from something most prep athletes dream about — a state championship.

The Steelers have made believers out of most of their critics this season. Living in the shadow of the traditional powerhouse high school baseball teams in the area, they kept knocking each one of them off at one time or another during the season enroute to a 20-6 record.

But every game is a "must" game for North now. It is in the IHSA Class AA (large school) state final tournament. But getting there meant winning some "must" games. The Steelers have defeated five straight post-season foes. And they have done it convincingly every time.

The Steelers have nicknamed themselves "The Lumber Company," because of their talent at swinging the baseball bats (even though most of the bats are now made of aluminum).

North earned its trip to the state tournament by whipping Normal High School 6-0 here Tuesday in the championship game of the Springfield Sectional. That made it five down and three to go.

EDWARDSVILLE — Arjun Fernando, an All-American in both divisions of NCAA tennis this season, has been named Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's "Most Outstanding Athlete" for the 1978-79 school year.

He and 250 other men athletes in SIUE's eight-sports program were honored at the Cougars' 10th annual Athletic Awards Banquet, at the American Legion Club in Edwardsville. Bill Wilkerson, sports broadcaster and announcer for St. Louis radio station KMOX, was the evening's principal speaker and also served as the event's master of ceremonies.

Dr. James R. Buck, executive assistant to SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw, made the award presentation to Fernando.

Dr. Buck, in making the presentation, capsuled Fernando's four-year accomplishments at SIUE in tennis:

—He won the national NCAA Division II championship two weeks ago in Arkansas by defeating his own teammate, Juan Farrow, in the title game. Farrow had won the national title two years in succession, and Farrow was chosen as the Cougars' "Outstanding Athlete" last year.

—He advanced to the quarterfinals before bowing out at the Division I NCAA tournament, and with Farrow, his doubles teammate, fought to the semi-finals before losing.

It was the first time in the 95-year history of the NCAA Division I tennis championship tournament that two players from the same school had advance to the quarterfinals of the singles.

Many athletes receive awards at SIUE dinner

He and Farrow had also won the national NCAA Division II doubles crown two weeks ago in Arkansas.

In his four years on Coach Kent DeMars' SIUE tennis team, the young (20) native of Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon) posted an amazing 183 victories and lost only 44 against mostly Division I competition.

Fernando also represented his country on Sri Lanka's Davis Cup team as a 15 and 17-year-old. He was seeded No. 10 in the national junior tournament in 1978 at Kalamazoo, Mich. The same year, he was seeded 15th at the New Year's Orange Bowl junior tourney at Miami.

Twice he played at Wimbledon in England in the Juniors.

An honor student majoring in engineering, Fernando has been on the Dean's List every quarter for four years.

Mike Waldo, from Granite City and a senior, was picked as the University's "Scholar-Athlete." After two years at Lewis & Clark Junior College, Waldo was a member of the Cougars' basketball team two years.

Ed Huneke, past president of the SIUE Alumni Association and himself a standout soccer player, made the presentation to Waldo. Huneke is now soccer coach at Lewis & Clark.

Winner of the University's "Good Sportsmanship Award" was Kell Peebles, the Cougars' all-time scoring leader in basketball. Wilkerson made the award presentation to Peebles.

Most Valuable Player award winners, by sports, are:

Baseball — Bill Stoltz; cross-country — Sam Nesbitt; tennis — Arjun Fernando; track — Mike Grandcolas; wrestling — Mark Hattendorf; golf — Les Agne; basketball — Kell Peebles; and soccer — Mike Kelley.

'Darlings' of Div. I tournament

EDWARDSVILLE — They were the "darlings" of the 95th annual NCAA Division I (large schools) tennis tournament, hosted over the weekend by the University of Georgia at Athens.

They, the dynamic duo of Juan Farrow and Arjun Fernando, were representing Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in the prestigious tennis tournament in which the nation's top collegiate players were competing.

They had battled their way to Athens by winning the NCAA Division II crown the week before in Arkansas, successfully defending the title they had won the season before.

In Arkansas, Fernando had upset his teammate for the singles crown. Down in Georgia, both he and Farrow battled their way to the quarterfinals by winning two matches each of the tourney's first two days.

Fernando finally bowed out in the quarters by losing to Kevin Curren, of the University of Texas, 7-5, 6-3. Curren was the tourney's No. 1-ranked player and eventual winner of the meet crown.

In the quarters, Farrow blitzed Jeff Etterbeck of the University of Michigan, 6-4, 6-2, to advance to his semi-final match with Eric Iskersky of Trinity U.

Iskersky, who had lost to Fernando in the Rice Invitational earlier in the season, defeated Farrow, 7-5, 6-1, but only after an almost unbelievable run of winning six of seven three-and-three, the system in the no-add format used at most tennis meets today.

A little over two hours later, Farrow and Fernando lost their chance to play for the Division I doubles crown by bowing to the duo from the University of Tennessee, Andy Kohlberg and Mike Fancutt, 6-2, 6-2.

Cougars weary after '79 baseball season

BY AL BARNES
For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — He was ashen faced and bone weary as he stepped off the bus following his team's season-ending seven-game trip through southwest Missouri and the northeast corner of Oklahoma last weekend.

Coach Gary (Bo) Collins, whose Southern Illinois Cardinals at Edwardsville baseball team had managed to win only once in seven games to complete a dismal 15-26 season, was weary not only from the long trip but from the disappointments of his first season as a major college baseball mentor.

"I knew when I took over this job that we had a rebuilding job to do. Well, that was an understatement. The fellows showed flashes of real talent, but we couldn't keep away from the errors, both physical and mental."

Collins pointed out that the fellows won't be hit with long layoffs because of the weather.

Stolte, finishing strong, won the hitting title with a .336 average and drove in 25 runs, the tops in RBI's.

Larry Madsen would not doubt the best collegiate player in America "per area, both from the high school ranks and the junior college players. And as far as I'm concerned, it is my hope to turn the Cougar baseball picture around and highlight it."

He pointed out that this area — southwestern Illinois and St. Louis and St. Louis County — has a lot of standard baseball talent.

The completed season wasn't all negative to the young coach. "Bill Stolte and Tony Pugh had great season. Don Eberlin, Randy Manley, Bernie Lewis and Brian Sikes fell somewhat off their best seasons, but I can't and won't fault them. Our pitching, under the pressure of the shortened schedule hurt us, but we had expected. Rained out games, and the shortened schedule hurt us, too," Collins pointed out.

Collins says he expects to schedule at least one-fourth more games than this season. "So that the fellows won't be hit with long layoffs because of the weather."

Stolte, finishing strong, won the hitting title with a .336 average and drove in 25 runs, the tops in RBI's.

Class AA downs Class A

BENTON — The Southern Illinois Class AA basketball all-stars whipped the Class A stars here Sunday in the first annual Pizza Hut All-Star Classic at Benton High School.

The teams were made up of the best seniors from Southern Illinois High Schools, as selected by a board of coaches.

Led by Tony "Too Tall" Jones from Marion, the Class AA stars edged away from a close game at half-time to make it a runaway. Jones scored 17 points and was named the game's most valuable player.

In a stand-dust contest held at halftime, Darnell Jones won over six other contestants. All proceeds from the game went to Easter Seals.

State okays grant for study of respirable air particles here

A state grant to study possible connections between particles in the air and the respiratory health of the people who breathe them has been awarded to a researcher at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Stephen K. Hall, associate professor of chemistry at SIUE, received the $19,800 grant from the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources for the five-year proposal. He will conduct the study in the Granite City area, a city identified by the state as having twice the average national incidence rate for pulmonary diseases.

In the first part of the three-phase plan, Hall said Wednesday, he will use scanning electron microscopy and energy dispersive x-ray analysis to study the material collected by the Granite City air quality monitoring network over the last few years.

He will correlate analytical results with the health records of patients of pulmonary diseases from St. Elizabeth Medical Center, and the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Beginning this summer, Mrs. Downing said, training volunteers to interview and screen approximately 4,000 high school and adult residents of Granite City for general health information, personal history and health habits and to give spirometric tests for lung function and health.

Researchers will also test lung specimens from biopsies and autopsies for possible correlation of the size and chemical composition of the particles found in the tissue.

The last phase will begin two years later with a second health survey of the same interviewees, testing for changes in lungs compared with changes in personal habits, residence, occupation and medical history.

The screening will include the number of colds noted within the previous two years.

In a final report, Hall will make a comparison of all the health histories with the samples continuously collected and analyzed from the air.

Hall said the study should provide some information about the effects of respirable particulates on pulmonary health in general and the degree of interaction between the chemical composition and size of the particles and the incidence of pulmonary disease in particular.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is currently considering revision of the 1971 National Air Quality Standards to possibly set separate control levels for respirable particles instead of a standard for total particulate matter. Hall said the study may show that the 1971 standards may not be adequate to human health.

Drivers at safety break drop one-third from '78

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Of the Press-Record

The average driver traveling the interstate highways during the Memorial Day holiday weekend probably didn't notice too much difference in the traffic flow from the usual rush of vehicles, but the Free Spirits REACT Team certainly did.

The local Radio Emergency Associated Citizens Team, operating its "Safety Break" project at Interstate 270 and Illinois

Highway 111, found a substantial drop in the number of motorists stopping by its weekend headquarters.

According to Mrs. Barbara Downing, project chairman, a total of 291 travelers stopped at the club's communications center and visited the adjacent tent for coffee, rolls and a break in their driving.

Nearly all those halting their trip for a short visit were people traveling long distances.

In contrast, last Memorial Day weekend, a total of 889 drivers called in at the REACT facility, Mrs. Downing said.

Some 3,000 drivers stopped at the Fourth of July, Labor Day and May holiday breaks sponsored by the Free Spirits last year.

Callers during the past weekend represented only 16 of the 50 states and three foreign countries—Canada, Pakistan and India, Mrs. Downing said.

The safety break project last Memorial Day weekend attracted travelers from 49 states, with only South Dakota not represented, and 16 foreign countries.

The area's official REACT club operated the project from 4 p.m. Friday, May 25 until 4 p.m. Monday, May 28, as a public service.

The volunteer program is designed to encourage weary travelers to take a "break" in their driving schedule for a cup of coffee and a doughnut, receive current information about road conditions and give themselves a brief respite from the monotonous task of driving many miles along the super highways.

Although strong gusts of wind Thursday and Friday threatened to turn over the refreshment tent for a short time, the Free Spirits came through the weekend in relatively good shape, Mrs. Downing added.

Communication equipment is operated from the safe confines of a sturdy van. During the 1978 Memorial Day weekend break, a rainstorm coupled with high winds caused the main tent to collapse, she noted.

The chairman said travelers stopping at the break site on a holiday weekend time frequently take a few moments to stop when they are next traveling through this area.

The Free Spirit CB'ers are now into the fourth year of their volunteer service program to the traveling public.

The club is planning to continue the safety program on the Fourth of July and Labor Day weekends, although the cost of various items is increasing to the point it is becoming difficult for the individual members

14 clubs represented at District V garden meet

Fourteen of the 17 clubs in District V Garden Clubs were represented included Cahokia, Edwardsville, Holiday Shores, Mascoutah, Fairview Heights, Shiloh Valley, St. Clair County and Winstanley of Belleville, Lakeview of Collinsville, Cloverview, Gardenaires and Garden Study of Granite City, Creative Gardeners of Jersey County and Green Oaks of Macoupin County.

The welcoming address was given by Mrs. Robert Trimpf, president of Mascoutah Garden Club, with the response by Mary Ellen Lindsey, vice chairman of the district. Mrs. Arthur Busch, district director, read a poem to the group before starting the meeting. The tables were decorated with baskets of strawberries the Mascoutah members had made.

Favors were three of the same type strawberries for each person to pin on with a name tag.

The awards given out at the recent convention in Chicago were presented to the different clubs. Two of the district's members who had served as chairmen for the state were honored by having their names placed in The Illinois Book of Honor by the district. One of the members, Mrs. Stephen Shea, served as Blue Star Memorial chairman for a number of years and had the distinction of bringing Illinois from the bottom to the top in Blue Star Markers.

to keep financing the breaks, Mrs. Downing said.

"We are hoping to get some help from the business community so we can continue," she explained.

In addition to the holiday "Safety Breaks," the Free Spirits operate a 24-hour year around monitoring service on Citizens Band Radio Channel 9 to aid drivers in distress, Robert Heilig, president of the local CB club, noted.

The assistance rendered to many stranded drivers in past winter storms on snow and ice covered highways is remembered with gratitude by hundreds of travelers, the club files indicate.

leading in Central Region and then in National.

The other member, Mrs. Earl Glenn, also was recognized for her job as chairman of World Gardening and also as Conservation chairman.

The program for the day included an arrangement by Mildred Rank, the rules on horticulture for a flower show by Irene Shea and Dorothy McMullen gave a presentation on Civic Principles. She gave a list of things to improve in the community. She also noted that projects must be maintained. She said there is no such thing as a maintenance-free project.

Dr. Mina Morris and her husband Jack showed slides of their trip to China last summer, with a narration of the slides.

Virginia Kaufhold explained the rules for making history books. Several clubs brought their history books and year books for display.

Mrs. William Klotz requested each club turn in their list of plants planted this year no later than Feb. 1, 1980.

Tickets available from June 1 to the gate.

June is nearly here and that means millions of American school kids will pack away the books and break out the swimsuits, baseball gloves and roller skates.

Just to make sure they don't return to classes in August with that "I forgot everything I ever learned" feeling, a mathematics educator suggests they combine summer fun with number games.

"It's okay for kids to put away the school books, but they should keep a pad and pencil handy and begin to apply some of the mathematics they've been learning all year long," says Jan Scheer, associate professor in the SIUC College of Education.

Mathematics—while considered an educational basic—still ranks as one of the most unpopular school subjects, she believes.

"Few students acquire a real liking for mathematics until they have seen firsthand how much they will use it in their lives. This is something parents can do with the aid of a road atlas, a utility bill, a five-pound bass or a baseball scorecard," she says.

"So if you're planning a summer vacation, get out the road atlas and family budget and let the kids take over."

"A road map is an excellent learning tool and one that children rarely see in school, except for an occasional social studies lesson," Prof. Scheer says.

"Let the kids figure up mileage, estimate the number of hours or days your trip will take, the number of gasoline stops you'll have to make based on price (and availability) of gas and the size of your car's tank. Give them a dollar figure for the vacation and let them plan the activities."

"Once you hit the road, there are plenty of in-car games that will keep kids occupied in a productive way. The car's odometer and speedometer can be used, along with license plates, road signs and mileage markers."

"Metrics is supposed to be a thing of the future for Americans, but kids can get a jump on learning the new system of weights and measures by using it whenever and wherever possible."

"Don't go through conversions—that's the worst approach you can take. But do it along the highway, with recipes, at the grocery store and other places where metrics are being used now."

"We have highway signs right here in Southern Illinois that indicate distances to various locations in metric figures. Use them to practice metrics," she suggests.

Other summertime activities she recommends for mathematics practice:

PHONICS—Addition, subtraction, division and multiplication can be used to figure how much food is needed; how large portions should be, based on how many people will be eating; how much food can be bought with available funds; and how many plates, cups and utensils should be purchased.

BASEBALL GAMES—Batting averages are figured by dividing the number of hits by number of times at bat. The result is a decimal figure, which can be converted to percentages. The same can be done to figure fielding percentages based on number of chances fielded cleanly, divided by number of total chances. Younger children can add runs, hits and errors by innings.

FISHING—Individual fish weights and lengths, numbers of fish caught, numbers of worms used, average fish size and length for several fish, total weights and average number of fish caught per hour of fishing are a few of the mathematics possibilities here. Figuring fish weights and lengths presents a good opportunity to use metrics.

DINING OUT—Start out with a total dollar amount to be spent on a meal, divide by eaters and calculate the average cost per individual serving. Then consult a menu and see what each person can order by keeping a running total. Don't forget tax and tip.

SWIMMING—The beach or swimming pool is a good place to calculate distances in metrics. How far do you want to swim today? How many laps will that take? How much total time and time per lap? Also, the beach is a great place to give youngsters some inklings of infinity. How many grains of sand in the beach? How many stars in the sky? Seeds in a watermelon?

RAINY DAYS—On those days when everybody's bored or tired, try giving the kids some mathematics exercise. They can calculate budgets based on allowances, figuring what they want to spend their money on, how much work it will take to earn enough, what their working wage will be on the basis of overall pay and hours worked.

Also, let youngsters work with family utility bills to figure how much electricity is being used per day and hour, how much each hour of electricity is costing, and how many hours of electricity savings are needed to cut the family bill by five dollars a month.

"Any time you can apply mathematics to everyday living expenses in a way that will help kids practice the concepts they've learned—whether simple addition and subtraction or more difficult concepts like percentages and decimals—you've helped make studying math more meaningful. And you've probably contributed to the child's desire to learn more," says Prof. Scheer.

"The fact parent and child are sitting down together during the summer to work on mathematics will strengthen how they feel about each other as well as how they feel about math."

Holy Land slides Sunday at church

A presentation of slides showing scenes in the Holy Land will highlight a program at 7 p.m. Sunday at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3025 N. Main St. Drive.

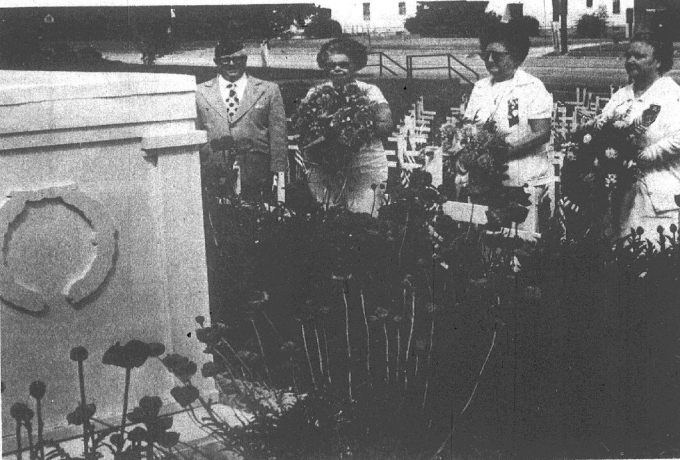

The Rev. Luther Abbott, pastor, said the public is invited to attend the presentation that is expected to last about 90 minutes.

Marty Hoffman, a native of Granite City, will provide the illustrated narration.

He made the slides during a tour of the Holy Land in 1978, the pastor said.

BOY RESCUED

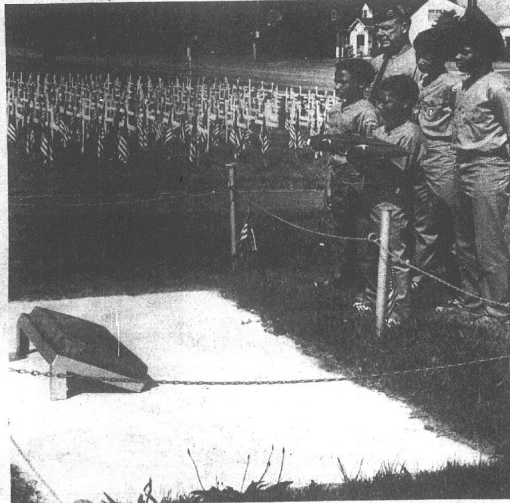

Thomas J. Scott Jr., 2, of 49 Shirwin Drive was playing in the bed of the family pickup truck when he got his hand stuck in a hole where the camper shell fit. A spokesman for the Long Lake fire department said Scott was "a brave little boy" as they freed him without injury. The vibration of the rescue tool used did frighten the boy, but as soon as his hand was free, he relaxed again.

Children's art workshops

A series of children's workshops in art will be offered this summer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Sponsored by the Friends of Art and the art education area in the university's department of art and design (692-3183), the workshops will be for two hours each morning, Monday through Friday, over a two-week period in June and July.

The activities will be directed toward motivating awareness of oneself and the environment, according to Michael Rubin, a certified art teacher in the graduate program in art education who will conduct the workshops. A variety of art media will facilitate the exploration of visual expression as a form of communication, he said.

The primary workshop is scheduled June 25 to July 7, from 9 to 11 a.m. Because of the 4th of July holiday, the last class session will be Saturday, July 7.

The intermediate workshop will be July 9-20, also from 9 to 11 a.m. The workshops will be held in Building III, Room 3200. Cost of each workshop is $25 per student, including art supplies.

CONTEST WINNER Miss Cheryl Hutchings, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hutchings of Granite City. She has entered and placed highly in three modeling contests.

Cheryl Hutchings is award winner

Miss Cheryl Hutchings, the 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hutchings, 3013 Forest Ave., has participated in three modeling contests, placing highly in each one.

Her most recent contest was held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She received a first place trophy for dress modeling and a third place trophy for modeling sportswear.

In April of this year, Miss Hutchings participated in a contest in Streetsboro, Ohio. She won the title of "Miss Winter Model of the Year."

"Most Photogenic" and "Miss Winter Model of the Year-Senior Model." She also received second place in dress modeling.

In her first contest, held at SIUE in February, she received a third place trophy for dress modeling.

Her next contest will be in Tennessee in June. She has been taking modeling lessons from Sharold Yount for six months.

Miss Hutchings is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hutchings of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fisher of DuQuoin, Ill.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold commencement exercises June 8 at 7 p.m. at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility, known generally as the Mississippi River Festival site. Approximately 2,000 students will receive undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, will deliver the commencement address and confer the degrees. Names of students participating in the graduation ceremonies will be announced as they receive their diplomas.

Four men who have made contributions toward improving the quality of life at the local, national and international levels will be honored during commencement activities.

The honorary degree of doctor of humane letters will be presented to R. Buckminster Fuller, professor emeritus at SIUE and a world-renowned philosopher, mathematician and engineer, and Charles J. Guenther of St. Louis.

Guenther is a nationally-acclaimed poet and for many years has served as the supervisory librarian and chief of the technical library at the U.S. Air Force Aeronautical Chart and Information Center.

Distinguished service awards will go to C. Kenneth Anderson of Highland, chairman of the board and chief executive officer for Artex International, Inc., and Karl L. Monroe, editor of the Collinsville Herald.

In recommending Fuller for the honor, university officers said, "In consideration of a truly unparalleled record of achievement during a long and vigorous career, and his special impact on Southern Illinois University, it would be impossible to imagine a figure more worthy of honor by this institution."

Active in the planning phase of the local campus, Fuller is symbolized by the geodesic dome of the Religious Center at SIUE. He invented geodesic domes.

Guenther is being honored for his contributions to the cultural community in the region served by the university. Since 1942, his translations, commentaries, poems and articles have been published in more than 200 American and foreign magazines. He has also authored books on modern Italian poets and Paul Valery. With the publication of his collection of poems, "Phrase-Paraphrase," Guenther attained national stature as a poet in his own right.

University officers said Anderson has been active in the development of SIUE since its earliest days. Always exerting a leadership role in a variety of university activities, he is being recognized for his service in economic development, expert leadership and overall devotion to the growth and prosperity of the area.

Monroe is being honored for his active interest in the growth and development of SIUE. Initially contributing to the campaign for acquisition of land for the campus, Monroe has utilized the newspaper to strengthen public support for the university, generally making the community aware and appreciative of the value of higher education.

Other awards to be conferred during commencement activities include the SIUE Alumni Association's Great Teacher Award and the junior and senior Teaching Excellence Awards.

A reception in honor of students participating in graduation ceremonies will be held at the site immediately following the program.

In the event of inclement weather, the starting time will be the same, but commencement activities will be decentralized, with ceremonies held at several indoor locations. Changes will be announced on area radio stations after 3 p.m. on June 8. Information may also be obtained by telephoning 692-2000 or 692-2739.

UNDERCOATING - RALPH'S TEXACO 22nd & MADISON AVE.

Robert C. Thurston, 53, of 1827 Maple St., was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest after a disturbance at his home early this week.

Police were told a man was chasing his wife around the yard of their home with a gun and when officers arrived, a man told them he would not allow "professional busy-bodies with guns" in his yard.

He allegedly refused to cooperate and when officers attempted to arrest him, force had to be used, police said. A gun was found in his van, officers reported.

Summer college classes June 4

Classes for Belleville Area College's summer session begin June 4. Day and evening classes in most credit areas are taught during the six-week term.

Summer classes are held on a four-day schedule, with the entire campus closings on Fridays to conserve energy.

Regular staff members work a 40-hour week during the first four days of the week to enable the college to close down cooling equipment for an entire three-day period each week. The practice is said to save $20,000 during the summer term in utility costs.

Students are permitted to take a maximum of nine credits during the six-week session, with six credits being the normal load. Veterans who enroll for six credits are considered to be attending full time and are eligible for maximum benefits under the G.I. Bill.

The BAC summer term ends July 26.

Late registration for BAC summer classes will be held June 4, 5, 6 and 7 between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m. on the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road.

Registration for the summer term has been an ongoing process since April, and regular registration periods ended on May 24.

A $5 late fee is charged those who register during the first week of classes. Classes begin on June 4.

Day and evening classes in most credit areas are taught during the summer session.

House okays applying more of fuel sales taxes to roads

The Illinois House on Thursday overwhelmingly approved legislation sponsored by State Rep. Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) to add $70 million to $80 million to the Illinois Road Fund without a tax increase. The legislation would place half of all sales taxes collected on gasoline into the road fund.

Rep. Steele said half of sales taxes on gasoline represents the additional amount the state collects now compared to one year ago, when the price of gasoline was about half of what it is now.

The House vote was 104-19, sending the measure to the Senate.

"This legislation would help end the deception that all taxes collected on the sale of gas go for highway purposes," Steele said. "The roads are clearly and desperately in need of repair. It is time to stop diverting revenues collected from motorists to purposes other than road construction and maintenance."

Rep. Steele explained that Illinois collects a 7.5-cent tax on each gallon of gasoline sold. In addition to that motor fuel tax, the state collects a four percent sales tax.

"About $200 million per year of the gas taxes are diverted out of the road fund, and all of the sales tax collections go right into the General Revenue Fund," he added. "This bill would put us on the path toward ending those diversions."

Rep. Steele said the legislation was amended in House hearings to earmark half of sales taxes on gas for road uses. The bill originally asked that all sales taxes on gasoline be placed in the Road Fund.

Steele explained that, with the change, the funds earmarked would in a sense involve "new" revenues, generated within the past year due to the rising cost of gasoline.

"It's bad enough that the cost of gas has nearly doubled in the past year," Steele commented. "But that doubled cost means the state is collecting twice as much sales tax on gasoline sales. The least we can do is guarantee that half of those doubled collections — the new revenues resulting from the higher price of gas — go directly and solely for road purposes.

"These additional dollars in the road fund can then be matched with federal funds to add up to possible $200 million more to the road fund," he said. "I am encouraged that the House agrees those new sales tax revenues belong in the road fund."

Two injured in truck-car mishap

A collision between a tractor-trailer truck and a 1969 Toyota resulted in injuries to the auto driver and a passenger at 1:10 a.m. Friday on Edwardsville Road at 12th Street.

Rowen V. Clark of Campbell, Ohio, operator of the truck, was attempting to back the rig back onto Edwardsville Road from 12th Street, after seeing a load limit sign, when the accident occurred.

Miss Pamela T. Schuur, 21, of New Baden, Ill., was driving her auto southbound on Edwardsville Road and allegedly struck the larger vehicle.

She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, treated for pain in the rib area and head and was admitted.

A passenger in the car, John R. Ubben, 29, of Collinsville, also went to the hospital by ambulance for treatment of cuts to the chin, nose and eyebrow. Later, he was released.

ARREST NEAR HOME
James D. Woods, 29, 824 Washington Ave., Madison, was released at 3 a.m. Friday by Granite City police after posting $35 bond on a disorderly conduct charge. He allegedly walked across the street from the Lone Acres tavern, entered a house at 2414 E. 20th, was ordered out of the house by the owner, went outside and lay down to go to sleep.

Urban League progress is cited

The Madison County Urban League has launched its new quarterly series of "MCUL reports to the community." The community served by this agency includes both the Alton-Godfrey area and surrounding towns, and the Quad-City area.

The first report meetings consisted of luncheons held Thursday at the Venice Community Center, on Broadway, and Friday at the YWCA in Alton.

The honorees were persons who had graduated from the Alton and Madison public school systems. They were selected because "they contributed to the life of their schools and colleges, and they are achieving in the world of work," a spokesman said.

Donald "Don" Freeman, a graduate of Madison High School and former basketball star, spoke and received honors at the Quad-City area luncheon in Venice.

He excelled in sports during his years of study at MHS and the University of Illinois, was a professional basketball standout with several teams, including the Los Angeles Lakers and San Antonio Spurs. He is now employed as a commercial loan officer at the Campaign National Bank in Champaign.

The honoree from the Alton area was Gerald "Gerry" Brewer, who was remembered for his contributions to the Alton High School Marching 100 band and the Alton Civic Orchestra as well as other school activities. He was the pianist for his church, Allen Chapel African Methodist Episcopal, and was active in religious youth programs in Madison County. He is now employed as a comptroller for the Ford Corp., with offices in Kansas City.

In addition to the speakers at each luncheon, the president of the MCUL board of directors, George Dickerson, and the executive director, Willie Walker, gave reports of the activities and financial status of the organization.

The luncheons were served at each site by the Ken Lowman Catering and Bakery Co.

95 June graduates at Venice-Lincoln Center

Between 90 and 95 students at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center will take part in graduation ceremonies in late June at the Venice Recreation Center, Duane Rankin, center administrator, informed the Venice Board of Education last week.

The precise number of graduates is not known at the present time, Rankin said, noting finals are yet to be completed, but at least 75 students will receive high school diplomas or GED certificates.

Fifteen students will be presented nurse aide certificates at the graduation. Rankin informed the board that U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has been invited to speak at the graduation ceremonies.

They are tentatively set for June 27 or June 28, depending on which date is convenient to the Congressional leader's schedule.

A group of Public Aid employees from this area, including caseworkers, toured the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center Friday.

The visit featured a program, lunch at the Stockyards Restaurant and inspection of the facilities available to students at the adult vocational-technical school.

The center administrator currently is preparing a tentative budget for 1979-80, with the total figure expected to amount to $500,000 for operations at the school.

Venice-Lincoln is operated with funds from federal and state agencies, but is administered by the Venice Board of Education as part of the local school district. Although funds have not yet been appropriated to operate the Venice school next year, Rankin said earlier the funds are expected to be authorized, with a possible cutback of 20 percent.

He was granted permission to attend a Region 5 conference June 8, an adult education meeting in Springfield, June 14 and 15, and a special seminar at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last week.

National Forensic league makes awards

Presented with the Degree of Merit which requires 25 points were: Audrey Beth Allen, Barbara Burris, George Compton, Anne Fuller, Tina L. Parchman, Lisa Randall, Jeffery Senter, and Lisa A. Thompson.

Sandra Cavins received the Degree of Honor which requires 75 points. The Degree of Excellence, which requires 150 points, was presented to John J. Hartung. Mark Belleville and Mark Kastelle were awarded the Degree of Distinction which requires 250 points. The awards were presented by F. Gordon Mueller and Wayne Hubbard, faculty sponsors of the National Forensic League at North.

Impanel new grand jury

A new Madison County grand jury was impaneled by Judge Harold R. Clark, chief circuit judge, Tuesday and was sworn in by Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell.

William Ohlendorf III, Collinsville, head basketball coach at Granite City High School North, was selected as foreman of the grand jury. The new grand jury will serve for four months.

WRONG WAY ARREST
Gerald Rainwater, 43, 1100 27th St., was stopped at Iowa and 30th streets at 11 p.m. Saturday for allegedly heading the wrong way on a one way street. Police allege they found open beer and whiskey in the car. Rainwater was released on $85 bond and is to appear in court June 29.

Homemakers' tea for new members

"Through the Years with Dolls" was the topic of Dolores Rabey's presentation for members of the 31 homemakers units at the annual New Member Tea of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association.

The speaker, from Granite City, an avid doll collector, traced the history of doll making from the late 1800s to the present and shared her extensive collection with the group.

"Reaching Out to Homemakers" was the theme for the afternoon at the Cooperative Extension Service office in Edwardsville.

Shirley Stahlhut, County Homemakers' board president, presided. She welcomed the women and introduced the HEA board, extension advisers, and past presidents who were special guests.

Short discussions on the adult, 4-H and youth extension programs were given by Mrs. Stahlhut and Extension Advisers Catherine Mauck and Jan Perkins.

The traveling silver cream and sugar set was presented to the Rox-Ann unit for getting the most new members during a March-April membership drive.

Guests were served from a tea table decorated with spring flowers. Past presidents assisted at the table.

PLAN ROAD CLOSING
Area motorists are being reminded that Missouri Avenue (formerly Route 3) from Pontoon Road to south of the A.O. Smith Corp. plant, will be closed to through traffic from June 4 to 15 for rail crossing repairs. New Route 3 (formerly Route 151) is being recommended as an alternate route to most destinations. The Terminal Railroad crossing at the A.O. Smith plant is to be reconstructed to make it smoother and safer.

Soprano Erie Mills at St. Louis Opera Theater

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Of the Press-Record
Soprano Erie Mills of Granite City, widely known to music lovers in the bi-state metropolitan region, is singing the difficult role of Zerbinetta in the Opera Theater of Saint Louis' production of Ariadne on Naxos at the Loretto-Hilton Center on the campus of Webster College, St. Louis.

The opera opened during the weekend, with performances continuing through June 23. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Opera Theater box office at 314-661-0644.

Conductor Leonard Slatkin, music director-elect of the Saint Louis Symphony, is making his first appearance with the Opera Theater, conducting performances Friday, June 1, Thursday, June 7, Tuesday, June 12, and at a matinee at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 23.

Slatkin also conducted the opening night and last night's performances. The Opera Theater orchestra is made up of St. Louis Symphony instrumentalists, and this year they form the first standard-sized opera orchestra that has been heard in the theater since the pit was enlarged last August.

"We are enormously pleased to have Mr. Slatkin conduct," said Richard Gaddes, general director of Opera Theater.

"We're proud of our association with the Symphony, and Mr. Slatkin's appearance is symbolic of that. But we are also determined to present the best young conductors in the United States and he obviously is one of them."

Slatkin was assistant, then associate principal conductor of the Saint Louis Symphony under Walter Susskind from 1968 to 1975, when he became music director of the New Orleans Symphony and principal guest conductor of the Minnesota Orchestra.

He will succeed Jerzy Semkow with the Saint Louis Symphony on Sept. 1.

All Opera Theater productions are presented in English; "Ariadne" is an exception only because it contains a play-within-a-play, whose characters sing in German.

During Act II of "Ariadne," both English and German will be sung at the same time.

The work is considered a full-force that combines high comedy in the commedia dell'arte tradition with some of the most beautiful music in all opera. The dazzling sets and costumes, which are among the most elaborate ever seen on the Loretto-Hilton stage, were designed by Walter Pickette and Dona Granata, with lighting by Arden Fingerhut.

"The climax of Act II might be the most spectacular thing this area has seen since 1904," Gaddes commented.

Lou Galterio, who directed last year's internationally televised production of Albert Herring, has returned to Opera Theatre to direct Ariadne.

Later in the season, he will direct a revival of his 1977 smash-hit production of Gianni Schicchi. Galterio has been called by music critics the best American opera director.

Miss Mills, who has studied in St. Louis, will sing the "unbelievably difficult" role of Zerbinetta.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph B. (Lula F.) Mills, 2104 Cottage Ave.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, Miss Mills received a master of music degree in 1977 from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana, and a bachelor of music degree from the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, in 1975.

Her lyrical soprano voice has thrilled audiences, both locally and nationally, for several years and she has garnered a long list of compliments.

The tiny Granite City opera singer is only five feet, two inches tall and weighs a mere 110 pounds.

She won a National Opera Institute grant to young singers in January 1978, and was awarded first prize in the MTNA National Collegiate Competition in March 1977.

Miss Mills, who now resides in Houston, sang the roles of Nannetta in Falstaff and Zdenka in Arabella with the Houston Grand Opera in 1978 and 1977.

She also sang the part of Norma in Don Pasquale and the role of Frasquita in Carmen at the Lake George Opera Festival.

Her professional career also includes appearances in L'Elisir d'Amore, Gianni Schicchi and Summer and Smoke.

Miss Mills also sang the role of Musetta in La Boheme, as Abigail Williams in The Crucible and appeared as Anne Trulove in

The Rake's Progress.

Her career in musical opera started in 1970 with the St. Louis Muny Opera in Forest Park, where she was part of the singing and dancing chorus until 1975. She played Chava in Fiddler on the Roof and Sister Berthe in The Sound of Music, both in 1973.

In later years, she appeared as Jenny in Funny Girl and as Nimue in Camelot productions and repeated her performance as Chava in Fiddler at the Dallas Summer Musicals series.

The Granite City singer also won second prize in national competition for the NATS Artist Award in 1976 and was the St. Louis Regional finalist in MEROLA competition at San Francisco.

In Ariadne, Miss Mills is appearing with Pamela Myers in the title role, Faith Esham, the Composer, Marc Embree, the Music Master, and David Hillman as Bacchus.

Four other operas will be presented during the 1979 season, including Verdi's La Traviata, the world premiere of The Village Singer (presented on a double bill with Gianni Schicchi), and the U.S. premiere of The Three Pintos.

Opera Theatre is a funded member of the Arts and Education Council, receives a generous grant from the Missouri Arts Council and is supported by the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

ON STAGE. Opera singer Erie Mills, singing the role of Zerbinetta, is shown with her troupe of commedia dell'arte clowns (Jeff Hadley, Wayne Turnage, Scott Reeve and Richard Croft), in the Opera Theater of St. Louis production of Ariadne on Naxos, directed by Lou Galterio, currently at the Loretto-Hilton Center, Webster College. The soprano is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph B. (Lula F.) Mills, 2104 Cottage Ave.

Fashion show, tea Sunday

A fashion show and tea will be held Sunday from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. in the Venice Recreation Center.

The event is being sponsored by the young people of Bethel AME Church. The Rev. Sammy L. Hooks is pastor.

Tickets are being sold for $2 and may also be purchased at the door.

A professional guest model, Mrs. Beatrice Howard of East St. Louis, along with the church youth, will model sports wear, street wear, beach and formal wear.

Refreshments will be served.

The public is invited to attend, according to Mrs. Ola Jones, chairman for the event.

GC Park District has openings in preschool

The Granite City Park District has several openings in its summer preschool classes, Harold Brown, director, reported today.

Youngsters who have reached the age of 4 years by Friday may be enrolled in the summer sessions, scheduled to start the week of June 11 at the Nameki Recreation Center.

It is necessary for the parent or guardian to register a child at the Wilson Park office, bringing the youngster's birth certificate and the family's proof of residency such as a receipted utility bill.

This summer, non-residents of the Granite City Park District may enroll their children for the preschool program, Brown said.

The cost to non-residents is $7.50 for the seven-week activity series.

There is no charge to those living within the park district's boundaries.

The summer program includes field trips, storytelling hour, outdoor activities and visits to the Wilson Park swimming pool, Mrs. Rosemary Lindner, instructor, advised.

Children attend two days each week in classes held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., or from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., she explained.

Registrations will be accepted on a first come, first served basis until the maximum number of 24 openings has been filled.

4 charged after tavern scuffle

Four persons face a total of 12 charges after allegedly scuffling with police at the Tip Top Tavern, 18th and State streets, at 10:20 p.m. Monday.

Police first responded to a request to remove a patron from the tavern and found the man already had left. While in the tavern, Patrolman J. W. Apperson saw what he alleged was an under-age youth drinking. When he seized what he believed was a false identification card, several persons came to the youth's rescue and a scuffle developed.

Patrolman Douglas Law injured his right knee in the disturbance and underwent X-rays and treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after the arrests were completed. His knee was bandaged and he was released.

Mark D. Shemwell, 17, of 1366 Norwood Drive, was charged with possessing a false identification card, resisting arrest, aggravated assault and possession of alcohol by a minor.

Melody Dawn Shemwell, 19, of 2445 Cleveland Blvd., was charged with aggravated assault, obstructing justice and resisting arrest.

Wilton L. Shemwell, 40, of 3036 Nameki Drive, was charged with resisting arrest, obstructing justice and aggravated assault, and Robert Anthony Sleeka, 21, of 3849 John Glen Drive, Ponton Beach, was charged with obstructing justice and resisting arrest.

Melody Shemwell told the Press-Record Tuesday afternoon that she and members of her family will file a lawsuit against the officers involved in the incident, alleging police used extreme force, without justification.

She contended that when Patrolman Apperson approached her brother, the 17-year-old did not have a drink or a false ID. She said she dropped a false ID card and when she leaned over to pick it up, she was struck on the back of the head with a billy club or a "sap."

She also alleged officers dragged her brother around the outside of the tavern by handcuffs while they kicked him and at one point, had him on the hood of a car, beating him with a night stick, when his father jumped on the 17-year-old to protect him.

Officers then beat the father, she alleged. After the four were arrested and were taken to the Granite City police station, police continued to beat Mark Shemwell, hitting his head and sticking him in the ribs with a flashlight, she contended.

Miss Shemwell also said all four of those arrested required X-rays and treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center as a result of the incident.

30-DAY JAIL TERM

Donald G. McNeely, 32, of 1728 Chestnut St., has been sentenced to serve one year of probation and 30 days in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to possessing a controlled substance when arrested April 25. Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark pronounced sentence.

SOPRANO ERIE MILLS of Granite City as Zerbinetta in the Opera Theater of St. Louis production of Richard Strauss' Ariadne on Naxos. Performances are scheduled on various dates through June 23 at the Loretto-Hilton Center on the campus of Webster College, St. Louis. Conductor Leonard Slatkin, music director-elect of the Saint Louis Symphony, is conducting the opera.

Pre-kindergarten skills topic of women's group

Thirty-six members and their guests attended the mother-daughter banquet held during May at the St. Margaret Mary cafeteria. This was the final meeting of the school year for the Ladies of St. Margaret Mary.

After a business meeting, each member introduced her guests. Sister Marie Monica led the group in prayer, and 75 participated in the evening meal, served in buffet style.

The speaker was Cathy Richard, home economics dept. head at South High School. She told of the program currently under way in the schools this year, entitled Parents Utilize Pre-Kindergarten Skills (PUPS).

The members and guests played games for prizes.

ARMED FORCES DAY observance is held during May at Scott Air Force Base. Students tour the C-9A "Nightingale" aircraft to learn more about its military capabilities and achievements. Tours of the hospital aircraft were part of the special activities. The eleven C-9As operated here by the 375th Aeromedical Airlift Wing were specifically modified and procured for moving sick and injured military members to medical facilities. The aircraft is also used to maintain crew proficiency, test new developments in aeromedical evacuation equipment and improve procedures for rapid, safe movement of patients.

DEATH AND DYING — CHALLENGE AND CHANGE XI: THE FUNERAL.

This is the eleventh in a series of 15 articles exploring "Death and Dying: Challenge and Change." In this article, Vanderlyn Pine, author of "Caretaker of the Dead," discusses funeral customs and the controversies surrounding them. This series was written for COURSES BY NEWSPAPER, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

XI. THE FUNERAL.

From the 1720s, when Massachusetts prohibited "extraordinary expenses at funerals," to the 1970s, when the Federal Trade Commission investigated contemporary funeral practices, funerals have been the subject of considerable controversy in America.

Despite such controversy, the funeral has persisted, albeit with some modifications, because it fulfills the needs of both society and the individual.

In the 1960's, for example, millions of people witnessed the funerals of President John F. Kennedy and the Reverend Martin Luther King. Televised coverage of the public ceremonies allowed people across the United States and throughout the world to share with the Kennedy and King families the shock, grief and sorrow that accompany unexpected death.

In 1978, America and the world witnessed the funerals of Senator Hubert H. Humphrey and Pope Paul. Although few were shocked by their deaths, many experienced grief and sorrow as well as a certain relief that often accompany an expected death.

The media accounts of such deaths help unite people in grief by allowing individuals families and society to express their concern and feelings for the loss of a specific human being.

Public funerals for dignitaries fill a societal need to face death openly and provide an opportunity for the public ventilation of private grief.

Such services, however, are no substitute for services for family members or friends. For when such deaths occur, the needs of immediately bereaved people are no less than when a dignitary dies, even though the impact on society may be much less.

The societal importance of individual funerals has changed over time. More than 60,000 years ago, Neanderthals commemorated death with ceremony, and each death was of great importance since it represented a loss of collective strength to the clan.

With the development of a relatively technological society in ancient Egypt, the importance of most individual deaths diminished, paralleled by the increased importance of a few deaths, such as those of pharaohs.

The rise of Judaism and Christianity emphasized the uniqueness of the individual, and each member of the community came to have more societal value, making funerals once again as important to the larger community as they were to the immediately bereaved.

School's out! Area youngsters spent last week celebrating . . . with parades, picnics, fun

PEOPLE

School is out and area youngsters have put away their books in favor of bicycles and baseballs. Last week, the kids celebrated the final days of school with all sorts of special activities.

Niedringhaus School had its 50th anniversary last week and part of the celebration included a gigantic cake (above). Students and school officials alike enjoyed the birthday of the school as the cake was cut and served.

Lake School second graders celebrated the end of the school year by breaking the pinata (above left) that they had made in class. Actually, they made four, with Mrs. Irwin's and Mrs. Zotti's classes each making two as part of their studies on Mexico.

Picnics, with booths set up and prizes for all, were held at every elementary school in the area. The bumper car booth at Frohardt (left), seemed to be a favorite of the kids. Second grade student Jason Benson (right) liked the ring toss game at Wilson School's picnic best.

The kids at Frohardt (below left) also staged a Tacky Day parade to show that they had lots of school spirit. The parade has become a yearly event at the school.

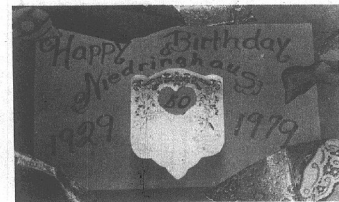

The last week of school would seem to be the most fun for youngsters and teachers alike. With little attention being paid to work, the last week is always the best week, according to some of the students we talked to.

Now it is time for a summer filled with playing, swimming and vacations with Mom and Dad.

It won't be long before it will be back to the schoolbooks. But the kids aren't too worried about that now. It's SUMMER VACATION!

'Quest to reach peak' — college lures GC homemaker-secretary

(Belleville Area College) Peggy Herzog is typical of the "new generation," of housewives who decide that wiggling noses and buying groceries aren't as totally fulfilling as they would like.

Mrs. Herzog, who got married as a junior in high school, finished her high school education after the birth of her two children.

The Granite City woman, who had always enjoyed the stimulation of ideas, knew that the completion of high school was just the beginning for her. She enrolled at Belleville Area College and will complete requirements for her associate degree this summer.

She has already been accepted into the aerospace engineering program at Parks College.

Secretary to the personnel director of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, she has such a variety of interests that it is almost overwhelming. Although her career goals tend to the scientific, she is a skilled writer and recently received word that one of her sonnets had been published in the College Poetry Review, spring edition.

She is divorced now, and finds that a full-time job, rearing two children alone, and going to school full-time keeps her unbelievably busy.

But she says, "I have found that you make the time to do the things that are really important to you. I enjoy going to school. I enjoy the people, the work, and the sense of accomplishment."

She carries an overall 3.73 average (on a 4.0 grade point system). The development of her sonnet seems to reflect the awakening of her intellectual psyche. She writes:

The sun, whose rise from night creates the day. Doth wake the bud of morning with a sigh Of gentle warmth. But when mid-day is high And day-flower's bloom is full beneath his ray,

His gentle touch, his spirit sweet and gay. Become fierce bolts of heat and light that fly heralding his try.

His quest to reach the peak, his role to play. Once more, before descending from his throne To earth as trumpets homage to the king. Of night. The earth, now parched and cracked, so blown

CONTOUR ANALYSIS EXAMINATION FOR VICTIMS OF CHRONIC OR ACUTE PAIN

A free Contour Analysis examination is being offered for people with acute or chronic pain by the chiropractic offices listed below. People who suffer with backache, bursitis, arthritis, neuralgia, nerve pain, neck pain, muscle pain, bone pain, etc. . . are invited to receive this free examination.

Contour Analysis enables making a three-dimensional picture (called Mollus photography) of the topography of the surface of the spine to detect spinal stress deviations. This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomatology, and levels of spinal tenderness. An analysis of this type can reveal such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, apical curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortion, and scoliosis.

This analysis, including consultation with the doctor is being offered to the public at no charge. Anyone wishing to receive this free examination may telephone Dr. Reinhardt's office directly for information or an appointment.

New engineer in demand

There are plenty of opportunities in engineering for minorities—particularly those who are willing to put out a little extra effort—according to a Southern Illinois University at Carbondale engineering student who stepped into a high-paying job when he graduated May 12.

Osbert Lomax, senior in electrical engineering technology, knows all about it. The 23-year-old black from Venice (Madison High School) rejected 20 job offers before accepting a position with the Kansas City Power and Light Co.

"I consider myself to be a role model for a lot of minority students on campus. I want to encourage others to get into engineering as I did. I want to set a pattern, showing it can be done," Lomax said.

Three years ago, Lomax helped found Blacks in Engineering and Technology (BEAT) at SIUC and became its first president.

From five engineering students and an adviser in 1976, the group has grown to 40 active members. Students in BEAT visit high schools to encourage minorities to get into the engineering field. They also help each other in the tough engineering curriculum at SIUC.

"Working together is one of the things the group stresses," explained Lomax. "Engineers can't solve problems alone. They work together. Students here work together solving problems."

Lomax was also the founding president of the SIUC chapter of the National Technical Association (NTA) and vice-president of the campus chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

He planned a regional NTA conference at SIUC last year which brought together students from 10 engineering schools and representatives of 20 major corporations.

Outside activities are important to success in college, Lomax said.

"You have to maintain a good level of academic achievement but you can't be the kind of person that stays up in his room studying all the time. You have to learn how to communicate with people," Lomax said. "You might have the best idea in the world, but if you can't communicate it, the idea won't get anywhere."

Lomax showed leadership ability early in the game. He was president of his 1974 graduating class at Madison High School.

His interest in engineering also blossomed early. "I, then I was a kid, I was always tinkering around with broken lamps and appliances, never understanding how they worked and always wanting to know," he said.

Electrical engineering technology is a four-year program. But Lomax added a year to his studies by participating in a cooperative program in which students work during the summer and parts of the school year at jobs related to their majors.

Maryrose Minnito, counselor in SIUC's Career Planning and Placement Center, secured a job for Lomax in the electrical maintenance division of a steel company. So he graduated with 14 months of practical experience—experience companies are willing to pay for.

Lomax said he received salary offers ranging from $17,800 to $22,000 a year plus fringe benefits. His average offer was close to $19,000, approximately $1,000 more than the average graduating engineering student receives.

Lomax said the work experience paid off in the classroom, too. "You do better in school because all that stuff on the blackboard makes a little more sense. You know you'll be applying it when you get out," Lomax said.

Lomax also took advantage of the Career Planning and Placement Center to arrange his job interviews and help him prepare a personal resume.

Thirteen companies invited Lomax to their home offices for interviews after the initial on-campus interview.

He traveled from New York to Los Angeles and points in between during the two semester breaks—all at the companies' expense.

Susan Rehwaldt, Career Planning and Placement Center counselor for engineering, mathematics, technology and computer science students, said close to 200 companies come to SIUC each semester for on-campus interviews.

Many of her student clients are hired on the spot and others are flown to the home offices to meet other company officials.

"The biggest problem for these students is deciding which offer to take, not worrying whether they'll get a job offer," Rehwaldt noted. Lomax is one of those whose credentials made him a choice property.

"Engineering is a hard field and it's not an easy degree to get," he said. "But once you do get it, you can almost name your price."

Lomax is the son of Arletha Koonce of 1225 Douglas St., Venice.

OSBERT LOMAX, senior in electrical engineering technology at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. He was wooed by 21 companies before accepting a post-graduation job with the Kansas City Power and Light Co. He says opportunities for minorities in engineering are wide open, but admits the road to a degree is tough.
